SYNERGETICS TO HOST SOLAR SEMINAR AND WEBINAR SERIES

Starkville, Miss.—Synergetics will host four seminars and webinars to showcase its solar array atop its headquarters in Starkville and to inform attendees of tax credits and other incentives for solar energy in Mississippi.

Synergetics would like to invite local businesses to tour the largest solar array in Mississippi and learn about incentives that can be used toward an investment in solar energy. There will be four open house seminars: Nov. 7, Nov. 21, Dec. 3, and Dec. 17 at 3 p.m. Next-day webinars at 12 p.m. are also available, for those who are unable to attend the live sessions.

The open houses will inform business owners on available tax incentives for solar power and how to produce savings as early as year one. While businesses are best suited for solar array ownership, all are welcome to attend.

Established in 1992, Synergetics serves clients throughout the Southeastern United States. Synergetics owns and installed the largest solar array in Mississippi. We have experience in rooftop and ground mounting installation. Synergetics' solar consultant, JR Cromer, will provide a detailed presentation on solar ownership and inform attendees of available tax credits and low-interest financing options.

"Synergetics built the array because it made financial sense to convert our tax dollars into local infrastructure investment. Our facility has other energy efficiency features, as well as a recycling program. This project reduces electrical demand on the distribution grid during peak times, and promotes environmentally-sustainable forms of energy," JR Cromer said.

To register to attend a seminar or webinar, visit www.synergetics-solar.com. It is not required to register to attend an event, but it is highly encouraged to help adequately accommodate attendees. Seminars will be held at Synergetics headquarters: 501 Hwy 12 W, Suite 100, Starkville, MS 39759. For inquiries, contact Angela Harris at 662.461.0121 or aharris@synergeticsdcs.com.
